"Moulrate."-The many friends of "Moultrie," DANIEL OTTOLENGUI, Esq., no doubt regretted, as we did, the announcement that he was to write no more for The News. His letters were always epicy and fresh, and became one of the prime fea-tures of the paper. He has concluded to drop the pen and turn his attention to the great world of business, in which new vocation we trust he may be as successful as in the one he has given up. By be as successful as in the one no need a reference to an advertisement in to-day's paper, will be seen that he has opened a segar store will be seen that he has opened a segar store a the corner of Brondway and Seventeenth streets New York, where he states he shall be pleased to see his Southern friends. INFORMATION WANTED BY TAX-PAYERS .- Some of our friends want to know how it is that much-needed repairs, as putting a sidewalk on East Bay street, cannot be undertaken because of "no fund in the treasury," while money can be found to open new hospitals, although in the Roper and Mazyel atreet Hospitals we already have more accommo dation for the sick than the city requires? The money which is being expended on the unnecessa ry hospitals would cover the paving of East Bay street, which would be a public convenience. We are told that in the Roper Hospital there are still 100 beds vacant awaiting inmates. Will not Comcil look into the matter?

Colonial times, tobacco was one of the products of this State, but since that era, the cultivation of cotton has occupied the principle attention of the farmers. Some planters, however, have remained true to the habite of their forefathers, and we see by the Richmond papers that South Carolina Tobac has been received in that city. The Disper "A hogehead of tobacco, raised by Mrs. E. S. FARRAN in Union District, S. C., was sold at the Tobacco Exchange on yesterday. It was consigned to Messes. It was bought by Mesars. E. T. Pil-Einton & Co., manufacturers.

UNPROVOKED AND BRUTAL ASSAULT,—HUGH KERnens, a discharged United States soldiers, was ar-rested on Sunday by Lieut. Whalet, of the police, for a brutal attack on Myra Thorn, a colored wirl. nine years of age. The prisoner was walking up the road, near HAPPOLDT's farm, when he overtook the child, and, without any provocation, at-tacked her, stabbing her severely in the abdomen and inflicting other injuries. The screams of the child attracted the attention of some parties who were on the road, and they pursued Kersens. THE TRADE STREET CAUSEWAY .- When the Bat. tery was first built it comprised but a small por-tion of the area now enclosed, for the sea wall then extended only along East Bay, the pleasure grounds on South Bay to be a sea of the presented of the present of t grounds on South Bay being subsequently added.
As the property of the city increased, it became evident that the southern boundary should be a park or public square, fronting on the water, and this opinion was so popular that the city authorities purchased the lots adjacent to the Battery, designing to complete the extension in due time, Unfortunately other counsels prevailed, the land was sold, our reverses came, and a Battery from

At present the Battery is still a noble monument to carry conviction to the minds of all his hearers.
Such plain, practical, carnest sermons are the very kind that are wanted at this time, and we are not surprised to hear that the officers and members of of the past and an ornament to the city, and we hope that with our future developments it will become all that its founders anticipated. There are but few houses on South Bay to be removed and the Tradd street care. NARDIE for the discourse.

If we might venture to suggest an idea to those the Tradd street causeway presents a long and bold front to the water that could easily be converted into a pleasant promenade.

Since the war this has been extensively patronized, and though rather dilapidated from the ac-tion of both time and tide, yet the breeze that es fresh from the ocean tempts many person to this spot. The retired locality, and the seclu-sion from any noise or crowd has increased its popularity, and it is frequented by those persons who are deterred from visiting the Battery. A little attention would soon restore the cause way to its former appearance, and would render it a m popular resort, as the neglect of a few years has caused the tide to make many encreachments on ogueed the tide to make many encroachments on the land, which mar the appearance and offer some impediments to the promenadors. Rome was not built in a day, and it will probably be some years before our Battery reaches perfection, but overy offert made to improve the property in that vizin-ity will aid the cause; and the impetus once given will be retained until the dream of the past will become a raility, and we will prosess a Battery ne a reality, and we will possess a Battery that will be at once the pride and boast of the Sigkles appears in another column, and we invite the attention of all citizens to its perusal. This order prescribes the eligibility to office Anis order prescribes the enginemy to one and the qualification of jurore. It also regulates the sale and licensing of liquors, abolishes the remedy by distress for rost, and provents discrimination among public carriers because of color or caste.
